THE OBSERVANCE OF CHRISTMAS-A LIVELY CELEBRATION-TWO PERSONS SHOT AND SEV-ERAL OTHERS INJURED -A CHECK ON THE BOYS-PASTORAL CALL-DEATH OF AN ESTI-MABLE LADY-YERY SUDDEN DEATH-PAIN-FUL ACCIDENT-MR. R. E. ROBINSON DYING-THE COLLECTORSHIP, &C. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

DECEMBER 26, 1877. Christmas-day was observed with more spirit than usual in our city. Business was generally suspended, but the streets were lively from Christmas eve to midnight of the following day. Many of our citizens kept open house for their friends and hospitably entertained all who called. On the streets there was more than the usual amount of drunkenness, and a number of fights and casualties occurred. Between 11 and 12 o'clock night before last a party of colored men were fired into on Washington street by unknown persons. One of them, Douglass Hall by name, residing at Chester, was shot through the leg, sustaining a painful wound. Another received a ball

At a later hour of the night, on the same street, Mr. Charles Thomas was shot in the neck, but fortunately was not much in-E. J. Collier (white) has been arrested, charged with firing the shot, but the evidence against him is very slight.

Several tights occurred on Old street vesterday, which caused much excitement. About 11 o'clock a party of drunken negroes made an attack on a colored man who was quietly attending to some business, and handled him quite roughly. A friend of the party attacked, named Nelson Dabney, went to his assistance, and was struck on the head with a slung-shot and badly burt. The drunken fellows were subsequently arrested, and this morning were properly sentenced in the Mayor's Court.

In the afternoon another fight between negroes occurred in the same vicinity, and slung-shot in the hands of another. The assailant escaped over into Chesterfield county and has not yet been arrested. On the docket of the Mayor's Court this morning there were thirty-one cases-all the result of too much Christmas drinking. In consequence of so much sickness about the city the blowing of horns and the discharging of tireworks were checked as much as possible vesterday on the streets. Rev. Mr. Keeple, of Brandon parish, Prince George county, has received an unanimous call toothe Church of the Mediator, at Meridian, Miss. It is believed be will accept it. If so, Southside Virginia will lose one of its most faithful and efficient Presbyters.

Mrs. Mary Caroline Banister died yesterday morning, after a protracted illness; aged sixty-three years. She was the widow of the late William C. Banister, who was killed in the memorable battle of the 9th of June, 1864, during Kautz's raid on the city, when so many of our citizens fell. She was a lady of most estimable character and universally beloved.

A daughter of Mr. William F. Spotswood, president of the Council, died very suddenly this morning about 3 o'clock; aged four years. She went to bed apparently in perfect health. About the hour above named her parents were awakened by her screams and summoned a physician to attend her, but she died in a few minutes.

His physicians think he can live but a few hours longer The ball entered the side and cut some of the vital organs. The event casts a gloom over the community, and is universally and very sincerely regretted. Mr. Robinson is about thirty-two years of age, and has a wife and three young children. Freehearted and courteous and social, he is a favorite with all who know him. He will probably have breathed his last before this commander. It is thought that Colonel Brady will no resume his duties as collector of internal revenue for this district before the 1st of January. A very pleasant Christmas festival was given yesterday afternoon at Salem church, in Chesterfield county, and a large Christmas-tree was prepared for the occasion. The Catholic and Episcopal churches of this city were elaborately dressed for Christ-

CLARKE COUNTY.

BERRYVILLE, VA., December 24, 1877. Editors Dispatch: In my letter of the 20th I stated that it was probable the Bank of Berryville would pay depositors in full. Examination of the affairs of the bank has since been made, and the supposition now is that it will not pay over fifty per cent. to depositors. Many of these are persons of small means, who can ill afford to lose. Business in all its branches has received a great check. Our county has suffered greatly. First the flood of 1870; next terrible drought, and afterwards the flood of 1877; last, but not least, the failure of the bank. Every man in Clarke who lost by the bank has a face varying in longitude from the length of a telegraph-pole to the length of the Atlantic cable. A poor show for Christmas. Can't you send us a big pumpkin-pie. C. M. L.

It is asserted the proposition will be reported favorably to the full committee, and the chances are largely in favor of its getting into the bill, and so through the It will start with friends from both parties in the West and South, and will secure aid from all who wish to lower taxes on whiskey and tobacco. A New York letter confirms the reported combination of southern and western members on this question, irrespective of party. The residence of Dr. W. McCarthy, in Cincinnati, was entered on Christmas morning and notes and valuable papers stolen. The notes had a nominal value of $10,000, but the main object of the burglars seems to have been to obtain papers in relation to a sensational scandal case, as six large envelopes containing important correspondence relating to the case were carried off. The Winthrop church and Town House at Randolph, Mass., were destroyed by fire

How Mr. Hayes Was Counted In.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM WILLIAM E. CHAND-LER, OF THE NATIONAL EEPUBLICAN COM-MITTEE. TO THE REPUBLICANS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

WASHINGTON, December 26 .- William E. Chandler, of New Hampshire, of the Republican National Committee, has addressed an open letter to the Republicans of his State, making mention of the number of made during the electoral count and their fulfilment by the adoption and pursuance of the President's southern policy. Mr. Chandler asserts that the Republican party, by the advice and procurement of Governor Hayes, made "the necessity of keeping Federal power in Republican hands and using it for the protection of the black and southern Republicans" the main issue of the presidential campaign. Chandler says the "bloody shirt," as it is called, was freely waved, and Gover-nor Hayes bimself urged public men to put forward as our best argument the dangers of rebel rule and a solid South. Chandler quotes several expressions from Hayes's letter of November, 1876, when Hayes thought bimself defeated, and said: "I do not care for myself, but I do care for the poor colored men of the South. * *
Northern men cannot live there. * * The southern people will treat the constitutional amendments as nullities, and then the colored man's fate will be worse than it was when he was in slavery. * * * * That is the only reason that I regret that the news is as it is." Chandler proceeds: "Governor Hayes not only pledged himself to protect to the full had been made during the presidential count, by which if Hayes should be the SHIP.—The firm of FARRAR & AUGUSTINE siana and South Carolina were to be aban-States to be recognized and established: Certain Democrats in the House of Representatives, seeing that by the recurring decisions of the Electoral Commission and the regular proceedings of the two houses under the electoral bill, which they had warmly supported, Hayes would surely become President, had conceived the idea of saving something from the wreck. They had therefore threatened by dilatory motions and riotous proceedings to break up the count, and then opened negotiations IN ORDER TO REDUCE HER with such timid or too expectant Republicans as they could find. One Henry Watterson, a member of the House, and a nephew of Stanley Matthews, had acted as nephew of Stanley Matthews, had acted as go-between (Senator Sherman in the mean time having visited Ohio and consult-ed Governor Hayes), and on the one side Matthews, Charles Foster, John side Matthews, Charles Foster, John dent; and second, that upon Hayes's accession troops should be withdrawn from the support of Chamberlain and Packerd, and that the new Administration should recognize Wade Bampton and General Nicholls. After the inauguration the bargain was fully carried out. Governors Packard and Chamberlain were notified by Matthews and Evarts to get out." Chandler proceeds at great length noticing, among other things, the appointment of Key, who in the Senate denounced Hayes's title as fraudulent, to the Postmaster-Generalship.

Commercial and Financial Troubles. ATOR PATTERSON HAS HAD ANOTHER NETTER & CO., OF NEW YORK, UNABLE TO MEET THEIR OBLIGATIONS.

> NEW YORK, December 26 .- Netter & Co., stock-brokers and bankers, of Exchange Place, announce to the Stock Exchange their inability to meet their contracts. Neither Mr. Gabriel nor Mr. Netter, who compose the firm, was at the office on Exchange Place this morning. The Post says: "There are rumors affoat respecting the failure which we refrain from printing until they are proved to be established facts. If they are not true they do gross injustice to the firm. We cannot believe that they are true."

The firm was supposed to be wealthy, and daybreak for the purpose of shooting wild | did a large business in lending money and in gold loans. It also sold "puts," " calls," "straddles," and other speculative privileges on stocks and gold.

After the failure was announced the of-Fuller did not return home at night or fice of the firm was thronged with persons who held these speculative privileges: also time, inquiring if their collaterals were safe. It was extinguished before much damage had been done. While the firemen were returning another fire was discovered in the residence of Thomas Terrell. The first persons arriving at the scene heard the screams of the inmates, but the fire had such headway that nothing could be done to save them. Four persons perished in the flames. There are strong suspicions of incendiarism, as the smell of coal-oil was noticeable about both buildings, and both fires seemed to have started from outside; besides which a man was seen running away from the first building.
